1. Infertility is quite a prevalent problem at this time. According to the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), over 7 million women in the US and over 70 million worldwide are currently struggling with this issue. What caused you to realize this was not just your own story but that you could provide how-to guidance for other couples who were struggling with infertility?
2. I see your book is divided into three sections: Our Story, Your Struggles, and Receiving God's Gift of Fertility. Since this book arose out of your own challenges with conceiving, please share a snapshot of your story with us.
3. Given the despair infertile couples often experience, why do you have an abundance of hope for hopeless couples?
4. In part two of your book, you address three specific struggles you've seen in couples. Tell us about the first one: "I don't even know if I believe in God."
5. Another struggle you address is: "It's impossible for us to get pregnant." What do you say in response to this sort of pronouncement?
6. In part three, you get practical in detailing how to receive God's gift of fertility. What are some of the most important things you've learned in your nearly-40 years of helping infertile couples?
7. There are so many medical options available nowadays for couples who are struggling with infertility, what do you say to those who report, "There's nothing medically wrong. We just cannot conceive."
8. What do you say to those who are still waiting to get pregnant? Are there other resources to help infertile couples?
9. How can people get in touch with you and share their own journey?
